RECOMMENDATION LETTER

We hereby confirm, that Rabinovich Lyudmila has been employed with Yandex.Technologies LLC since 03.08.2022 (Order № ЯТХ215Р/13 of 03.08.2022) to 02.11.2022 (Order № ЯТХ306Р/9 of 02.11.2022) as a test Engineer Intern in the Maps Web Apps testing group.

During the internship, Lyudmila proved herself to be a very responsible, goal-focused, professional QA-engineer, able to perform tasks on the same level as the main testers of the team. Lyudmila very soon got into a technically complex project that required high level of responsibility. Testing of the service included frontend, backend, payment cases, database testing. Ludmila performed all the tasks quickly, very efficiently and independently. The scope of the tasks assigned to Lyudmila included: full testing of new release tasks, regression testing, new cases generation, improvement of old testcases, composing checklists and test plans, writing instructions, research testing.

Lyudmila is adopting new tools very fast. While testing, she dives deeply into the details of the task. Also, she has good time planning skills, so she never fails deadlines. The whole team highly appreciates her professional and communication skills. Lyudmila has the potential to develop into both technical and management directions.

2 months after the start of the internship the company was ready to offer Lyudmila permanent position of a testing engineer in the team but due to Lyudmila's family circumstances, she could not accept the offer.

We are ready to recommend Lyudmila to work on a project with any technical complexity.
